

FEDERAZIONE ITALIANA
DI ATLETICA LEGGERA

Passionate runner ever since I was a kid, my first race ever was a mountain race in my home village back in 1992. I've always been practicing athletics, more specifically endurance running, since then. I never lost my love and interest for athletics, in the end I made out my job from this passion, even though you could see my cultural background is by far much wider.

My name is TITO FIORENZO TIBERTI, 36 years old, native from an Italian alpine valley (Valle Trompia, province of Brescia) I moved for studying or working purposes to several different "human habitats": in Italy mainly Pavia, Trento, southern Salento area, Garda Lake area; abroad I had been living and working in Leicester, Brussels and Buenos Aires. Actually I am officially living in Milan (home) and Rome (office), "unofficially" I am spending my best times together with high level Mountain and Trail Running athletes, either staying in training camps or traveling to race locations.

I have been operating as Mountain, Trail and Ultra Running Team Manager for Italian Athletics (Federazione Italiana di Atletica Leggera), after having been acting as Deputy of Mr Massimo Magnani (High Performance Director) during the previous Olympic Period (2013-2016).

I have been operating as Mountain, Trail and Ultra Running Team Manager for Italian Athletics (Federazione Italiana di Atletica Leggera), after having been acting as Deputy of Mr Massimo Magnani (High Performance Director) during the previous Olympic Period (2013-2016).

Endurance running specialized coach (3rd level), I am coaching also a few high level mountain and trail runners (men and women, individual and team medalists from recent international championships, among them World Championships Bronze Medalist Francesco Puppi). My coaching interest goes beyond athletics only as I am coaching and guiding visually impaired triathletes, among them Italy Team athlete Federico Sicura.

I told who I am, let's focus on what I would love to do bringing an institutional view inside ITRA together with my own view:

- performance: affirming the athletic value and agonistic dignity of trail running, beyond "classic athletics" prejudice (given that running in natural environment is not an Olympic discipline)
- matching tables: the international context asks relevant stakeholder (athletes, organizers, federations, etc...) to share their knowledge, experiences, prospects and ideas
- a reverse walk: bringing trail running (and ITRA) into national federations and not only viceversa
- the champions' issue: building a calendar with a clear meaning in order to offer the international championships a prominent position and value
- Social Responsibility: this is one key concept anyone is allowed to ignore. From environmental care and nature conservation to fair rules and regulations, from commonsense promotional activities to helping underdeveloped areas, from securing athletes safety and health to promote ethical behaviors, etc...

Feel free to contact me at any time,

Yours in sports

Tito F. Tiberti
